

Thursday 20th August

- Exec meeting
- trying to sort out Freshers event – this has involved careful time planning, designing a poster, trying to get helpers for tea, cake etc. and working out rooms/ projectors so has taken up a fair bit of time
- student representation

Friday 21st

- Freshers week meeting
- emailed Humanities Faculty people about getting our film into welcome lectures, the ones who've replied are really keen, but that's only about 2 of them!
- I've been going through diversity training for Student Direct, Exec, and the Peer Support centre
- I've been in contact with the careers service about workshops around equal pay, flexible working hours and harassment in the workplace

Monday 24th

- meeting with Jenny from NUS (North West organiser)
- ...followed by meeting about NUS town takeovers
- ...followed by coffee with Alan Gilbert and Pat Sponder
- ...followed by really good meeting with someone from equality and diversity, getting updated on their progress and feeding lots of proposals about student parents into what they're doing. They are planning diversity training for halls mentors, and focus groups for various groups of people.

Tuesday 25th

- Ordered things for Freshers week (mooncups, tampons)
- Reading up on lots of commentaries and news around women to update myself on what's going on the world and issues that are coming up
- Called and emailed loads of community groups and women's groups about Reclaim the Parks, and had a lot of positivity from those I got through to.
- Started planning a sexual consent workshop

Wednesday 26th

- Had a meeting with Sue from the International Society about student parents – we're going to work together on some stuff and it was very useful!
- Continued planning sexual consent workshop pulling together resources from across the internet and reading lots of policy and laws (this is time consuming but I'm feeling the benefits!)
- I've been inviting people to speak at a Challenging Orthodoxies debate in October
- Researched Benjamin Zephaniah and drafted a letter to his agent to see if he'd do a poetry reading in Black History month (has a poem about Steve Biko!)

Thursday 27th

- compiled massive list of all lecturers in university who might be interested in doing women's/ feminism related events – this took a long long time!
- Organised meeting with WiSET
- Emailed/called all of EPS and MPS about Freshers welcome lectures
- Almost finished Reclaim the Parks poster!
- Sorted minibus for Reclaim the Scene

- Collected vegetables for Reclaim the Scene from GAPS allotment

Friday 28th

- Student representation
- Finished Reclaim the Parks poster!!!
- Sorted some stuff and drove the minibus for Reclaim the Scene
- Contacted some people about coming for Black History month and pro-choice week

Weekend – went to Climate Camp and made some good contacts!

Tuesday 1st September

- emails emails emails
- meeting with Jacques about Black History month
- case work

Wednesday 2nd

- researching sex work and prostitution
- invited speakers for women in the miners' strike event and sex work event
- researching women in the miners' strike and trying to find contact details of potential speakers
- cleared my office of old Pangaea stuff
- got Facebook events ready for Thelma and Louise and Reclaim the Parks
- invited Miriam Kennet to speak on women and climate change